

Short scientific presentation session
Room III

Moderators Assoc.prof. Brigita Zachovajevienė, Dr. Vytautas Poškaitis

Marius Martišius	Does young age adults who have poor foot posture also have worse body balance?
Vaiva Martinkutė	Parents attitudes toward the factors affecting the participation in daily life of children with autism
Laura Aslam	The effects of differential learning on individuals who have undergone brain tumour surgery and the assessment of personal motivation on posture management
Skirmantė Danytė	Efficiency of dynamic neuromuscular stabilization and transcutaneous electrical nerve stimulation on back pain and trunk muscle endurance in middle-aged and older adults
Ieva Stakauskaitė	Possibilities of providing rehabilitation services through telemedicine for children with cerebral paralysis
Ligita Žilaitienė	Attitude of parents raising children with serious complex disabilities on alternative rehabilitation methods
Evaldas Melceris	Teachers' attitude towards behavioural issues and lack of independence in children with autism
Ugnė Steponavičiūtė	Day-care center specialists' knowledge and attitudes in managing the behavioural problems in children with autism
Giedrė Vaičienė	Assessment of different patient-reported outcome measures in patients with low back pain
Simona Kačkauskaitė	Evaluation of posture, respiratory system functional parameters, trunk static endurance and lumbar – pelvic stability in young adults with body tilt
Tautvydas Bradūnas	Evaluation of trunk muscles electrical activity, load of exercise and subjective sensation using outdoor fitness equipment for young adults
Indrė Kirklytė	Effectiveness of functional magnetic stimulation on pelvic floor muscle function, urinary incontinence symptoms and quality of life for female with stress urinary incontinence